About The Toro Company

The Toro Motor Company was founded on July 10, 1914 to provide engines for one of the early leaders in the tractor field, The Bull Tractor Company of Minneapolis. Although established as an independent company, the name "Toro" was chosen due to the company's association with Bull Tractor. Following Bull Tractor's untimely demise, Toro shifted its focus to the mowing industry. It was then, in 1919, that Toro was approached by the Minikahda Club in Minneapolis to create a motorized fairway mower to replace horse-drawn equipment. By mounting five lawn mowers onto the front of a farm tractor, Toro developed the Standard Golf Machine and helped create the motorized golf course equipment industry. Today, Toro is a global leader in turf and landscape maintenance equipment and irrigation solutions to help public sector agencies, and non-profits, care for golf courses, landscapes, sports fields, public green spaces, commercial and residential properties and agricultural fields.
